CELEBRATING OUR WOMEN

Makana Local Municipality organised a special programme to celebrate women employees from the institution during Women's Month to motivate and encourage them.

Scores of women from various offices attended the event at the City hall on Wednesday, 17 August 2022. All the women came dressed in traditional attire, which was the dress code for the event. The event provided the leadership of Makana Local Municipality to acknowledge the dignity, integrity and the effort women put into their work daily.

In South Africa, August is Women's Month - and each year August 9th is celebrated as National Women's Day.

According to internationalwomensday.com: "National Women's Day celebrates the strength and resilience of women and their contribution to society and country.

National Women's Day forms part of South Africa's Women's Month which provides an opportunity to pay tribute to the generations of women whose struggles laid the foundations for the progress made in empowering women and achieving gender equality to date."

The day was characterised by song, dance and poetry.

DRESSED FOR THE OCCASION

National Women's Day is a South African public holiday commemorating the 1956 march of approximately 20,000 women to the Union Buildings in Pretoria to petition containing more than 100,000 signatures against the country's pass laws that required South Africans defined as "black" under The Population Registration Act to carry an internal passport, known as a pass, that served to maintain population segregation, control urbanisation, and manage migrant labour during the apartheid era.

WINNING AGAINST THE ODDS

Local boxer Mziwoxolo “General” Ndwayana is determined to take his boxing career to new heights despite the lack of sponsorship or support.

Ndwayana, 34, currently holds the Eastern Cape Provincial Title following a knock-out victory against Odwa “Killer Kid” Gaxa in Port Elizabeth this past weekend. Despite fighting in national and international bouts Ndwayana has never been backed by a sponsor. The little he gets is in the form of donations from different organisation.

Ndwayana says his preparation was good because he knew about the fight on time. “I’m always prepared and in the gym and ready for whatever comes. So when I get a fight I just study the opponent and prepare for the fight.”

Speaking about his EC title fight Ndwayana said he had fought Gaxa before and knocked him out. “Even now I had prepared well and ensured that if I needed to go the distance I was ready for that, but I made sure he didn’t get any points at any point in the fight. He eventually panicked and came forward and I dropped him twice in the 5th round and the fight was stopped.”

Although he is happy about winning the fight Ndwayana says ever since he started boxing he has never had a sponsor. “I don’t know why, maybe I’m unfortunate. I was the SA champ and world champ but I have never had a sponsor. I think it’s due to the fact that my management team is not strong enough to cover everything because I only have two people in my camp my father and Mr Sakhiwo Duruwe that’s it. Even for my diet I need to hustle for myself, no one assists in making sure that I knock on the right doors.”

Ndwayana is also willing start a boxing academy to help young up and upcoming boxers even at school level and share his skills and knowledge with the community. He says he has raised this before but nobody backed him up. “All I need is support in terms of the things that I really need for fighting, I’m not looking for money but just the essentials, like boxing boots and so on. That’s my biggest problem and it affects me psychologically. I feel like I’m doing all of this by myself without any support, but I do it because I love my hometown. If I was somebody else I would have left a long time ago and fought for another province,” said a discouraged Ndwayana.

Makana Local Municipality would like to congratulate Mr Ndwayana on this special achievement and wish him well in his journey. Anyone who is willing to help can contact Mr Ndwayana on 062 074 4975.

REAWAKENING THE SPIRIT OF GARDENING

Umthathi Training Project Trust is a community organisation based in Extension 7. The organisation was named after a strong tree, due to its strong ties to the community it serves. UMthathi's focus currently is around strengthening and reawakening people's skills, mainly through gardening.

Training Coordinator Avuyile Bika says they are there to strengthen and reawaken existing skills in people. Anyone is allowed to visit the organisation and take part in the training workshops they offer in gardening. Bika says the training workshops are open to anyone in the community as long as people come in groups. "We wait for a big number of people because we can't afford individual bookings."

On 24 August 2022 Umthathi celebrated their Cooperatives. They invited them to showcase their food and products.

Umthathi was started to empower people using simple skills to generate an income, however, other programmes were stopped over time, due to lack of funds. Bika says they are currently focusing on gardening as well as a number of other complementary programmes, such as organic farming, money management, hygiene and nutrition. "We believe these go well together because you must be able to plant the right things so that you can be healthy, and also be able to set up meal plans. Participants are also taught important lessons about saving and using money responsibly," she said. Other skills that participants get from the trainings include record keeping and marketing.

IMPARTING VALUABLE KNOWLEDGE TO THE COMMUNITY

Once participants finish the training the organisation is also able to organise groups that exhibit growth potential and take the process a step further by assisting them to establish cooperatives. Bika says they then help the groups to register their cooperatives and then assist them to look for land to grow their businesses. “We also help link them with relevant government departments, such as the Department Agriculture and Social Development. We inform the departments that the Cooperatives are certified in gardening and they normally sponsor tools, seeds, and other relevant material.”

Anew group is currently working and leaning new skills at Umthathi

To ensure that the cooperatives get value from attending the workshops Umthathi also ropes in other organisations that specialise on fields that they don't offer, for example growing egg-laying chickens. “Our main aim is food security, but we try not to be limited. We are currently subcontracted by the Grahamstown Foundation to teach the current group gardening skills and they will also benefit from other trainings that take place here,” said an invigorated Bika. “We want people who come to Umthathi to come out with skills that will help them change their lives,” she added.

Umthathi's role doesn't end once the Cooperatives are up and running. They continue to help them to look for land, provide seeds and monitor individual gardens of those who opt for starting their own gardens.

EXECUTIVE MAYOR'S MESSAGE

Dear residents

I attended many gatherings during Women's Month. These were organised to celebrate women in the different roles they play in our society.

These types of programmes are important because they remind all of us just how important women are in our families, work places and in our daily lives in general. However, more needs to be done to protect women and children here and across the country. Research shows that domestic violence against women remains widespread and under-reported, and that victims of violence are not effectively supported by public services. Insufficient specialised services for women and children who are victims of violence and the absence of professional services to victims is only a few of the reasons for non-reporting.

Until all of these challenges are addressed, we as ordinary men and women need to take action, not just in the form of protests and programmes, but by speaking out against gender-based violence in our daily lives.

We must continue to support women and make sure that our children feel safe in our communities.

To protect yourself against abuse you can apply for a protection order. According to the Department of Justice and Constitutional Development:

- Any complainant may in the prescribed manner apply to the court for a protection order.
- The application may also be brought by any person with material interest in the wellbeing of the complainant e.g. Social worker teacher, police official, doctor or relative.
- Any minor or any person on behalf of the minor, may apply for a protection order.
- The application may be heard in private and the complainant/respondent may be allowed to not more than three persons for purpose of providing support.

• The protection order is valid for life and enforceable throughout the Republic. We saw many well-thought out events during Heritage month coming from young people. We must encourage this kind of creativity. Makana Local Municipality is known for creativity and education. We must work together to cultivate and support local talent as much as possible. We have a lot of talented people around us who need our support. We need unite behind the positive things that set us apart from other towns and cities.

VARIOUS TAXI ROUTES TO BE REVAMPED

PLANS TO FIX TAXI ROUTES IN PROGRESS

Various stakeholders met with Makana Municipality and Sarah Baartman District Municipality to listen to plans and efforts that are in the pipeline to fix some of the taxi routes around Makana LM. Some of the funding to fix M Street, Albert Street and one ring road has been approved by the Department of Transport. Makana LM will submit a costed business plan to the provincial government detailing how much it will cost to fix all taxi routes around Makana LM. This will give the department an idea of how much is needed to fix all of our taxi routes, so that when funding is available Makana LM will be considered.

UPDATE ON WATER SUPPLY INTERRUPTIONS IN MAKHANDA

1. PURPOSE

To appraise all stakeholders with regards to the water supply interruptions within Makhanda,

2. BACKGROUND

The city is supplied with water from two systems, commonly referred to as the Makhanda East and the Makhanda West water systems. Makhanda East is supplied with water from the Glen Melville dam which receives from the Orange-Fish water scheme. The James Kleynhans Water Treatment Works (JKWTW) treats 10MI/day which is pumped to the town's primary reservoir, Botha's Hill, at the edge of town and supplies largely the Eastern side of Makhanda (70% of the town's population). A project, funded by the Department of Water and Sanitation (DWS), is currently underway to increase the water supply capacity at JKWTW to 20MI/day to meet the present and growing demands of Makhanda.

Makhanda West is supplied with water from the Waainek Water Treatment Works, which obtains its water supply from the Howieson's Poort and Settler's dams. Waainek WTW's optimum production is about 7MI/day, and predominantly supplies the western side of town.

There exists an East to West linkage of a 300mm pipe diameter between the two systems.

Makhanda town has a demand of 18MI/d of water supply, so it has been severely water stressed for a while.

3. DISCUSSION

On 8 September 2022, a leak was observed on the Howiesonspoort Rising Main, which is 350mm in diameter. The pump station was switched off, immediately, however, the extent of the leak could not be assessed and repaired immediately, due to excessive pressure. The damage could only be assessed on 10 September 2022. As this pipe is made out of a steel material, a specialised contractor was brought in, but material was not immediately available. The last piece of material arrived on 14 September 2022. The contractor assisted with welding and sourcing of material, and the internal team continued with the repairs, immediately upon receipt of all required material.

Repairs were completed on the evening of 14 September 2022, however testing and pumping could not be done immediately, due to load shedding. This could be done on the morning, of 15 September 2022, however, the pipe kicked out after about an hour of pumping, due to pressure hammering. This compelled that the pumps be switched off again. As the water was already in the pipeline, we were compelled to allow a day for it to drain off. This implied that repairs could only resume on 16 September 2022.

Repairs were completed in the afternoon of 16 September 2022, however the pump could not be started immediately, as the team needed to construct a thrust so as to anchor the vulnerable part of the pipeline, for more stability, to sustain the high pressure. The thrust block was constructed on 17 September 2022, however testing and pumping could not immediately resume, before the concrete could dry up, due to weather inclement.

Pumping and testing could only be done on 19 September 2022. The line was filled around by lunch time and raw water had started to be transferred to Waainek WTW, however the process was continuously disrupted by Stage 6 loadshedding. The latter has affected the water provision patterns, as the output of Waainek WTW could not be guaranteed. It has been very difficult to operate the pump continuously, as we fear for unintended damage. We could only pump, on much more prolonged hours without electricity disruption.

Throughout this period, water had been supplied every second day, as we are more reliant on the James Kleynhans WTW, to supply the entire Makhanda.

On the evening of 26 September 2022, it was realised that the pressure did not pick up, during pumping from Howiesonspoort rising main. Although there was a suspected leak, but it could not be immediately detected, and required the team to walk the line.

On 27 September 2022, the team walked the line, and realised that there was, indeed a leak along N2. This meant that Waainek WTW would not contribute as expected, a specialist service provider was contacted, but unfortunately some of the required fittings could not be immediately available, until Tuesday, 04/10. The contractor attempted to do a temporary solution on 28 September 2022, however, it could not be successful. This compelled us to mainly rely on JKWTW production.

As the total of about 29ML storage capacity, it was realised that, although a minimum of 18 MI/d was attained with Water Day ON/OFF, there were no good levels, to ensure equitable distribution to both high and low-lying areas, as these trends would only benefit those in low lying areas. The water supply was, then adjusted to 2 days Water OFF. The resultant of that was evident on 30 September 2022, as there was adequate water, even in previously constrained areas. However, water was quickly depleted, especially, from the low level reservoir, due to high consumption on the CBD areas.

4. EFFECTS OF THE DISRUPTION

Insufficient supply to meet the demand.

Change in water provision pattern to rotational basis, i.e. Water ON/OFF days.

Inconsistent supply esp. for consumers on the high level areas, due to excessive consumption on the low lying areas.

More reliance on James Kleynhans WTW production for the whole of Makhanda.

More vulnerability to already aged water distribution network.

5. RECOMMENDATION

In view of the above, it is thus recommended for all stakeholders to note:

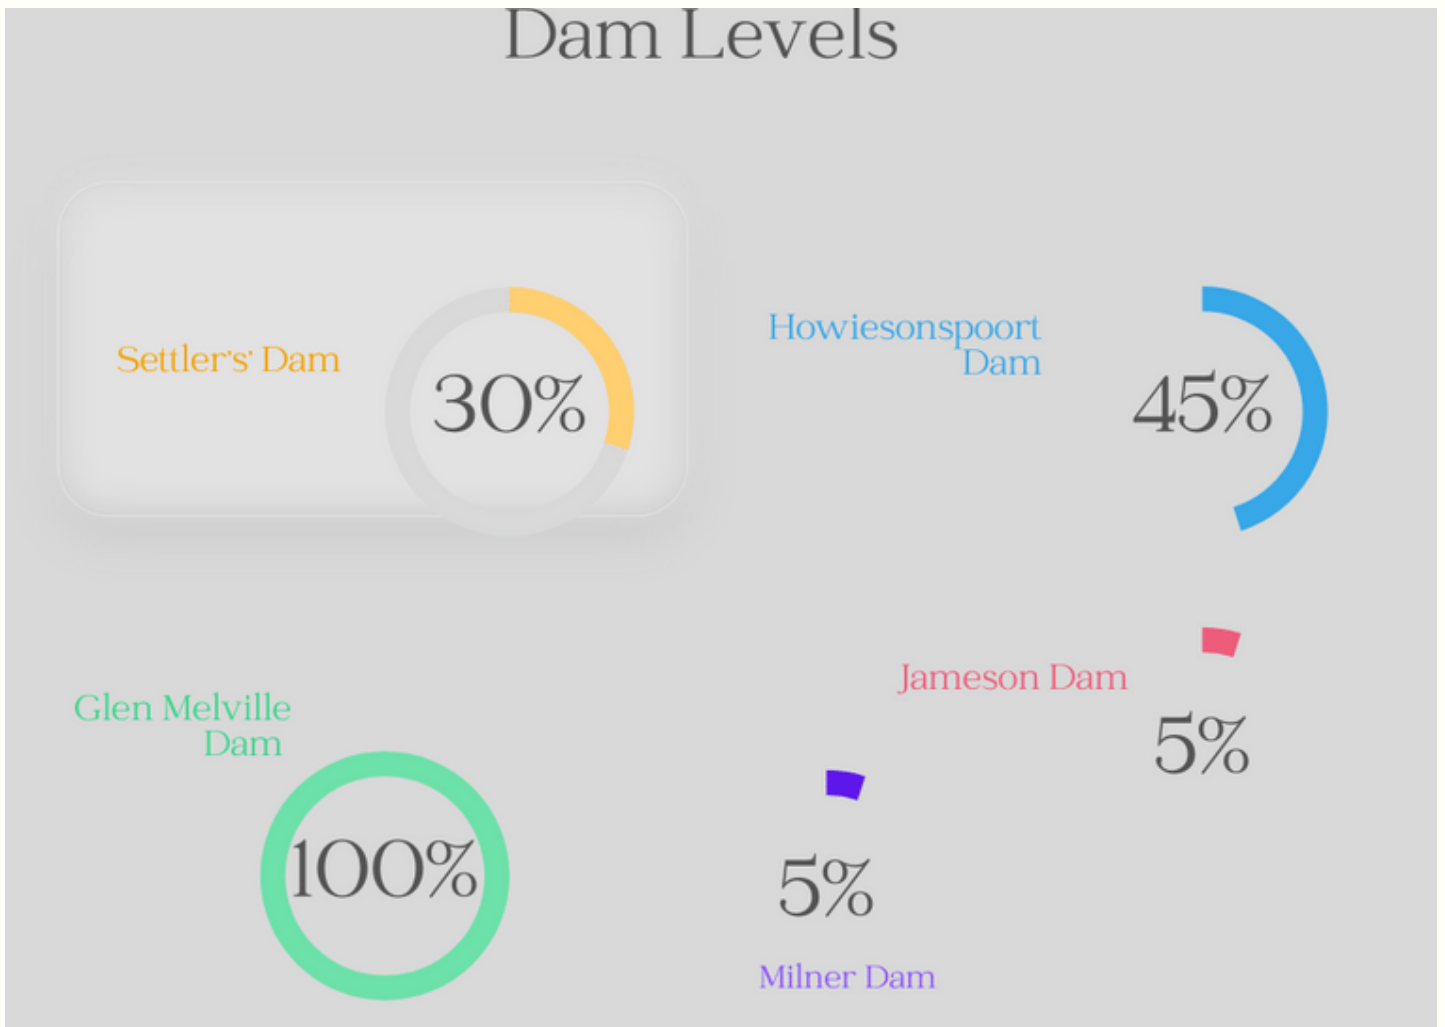

the challenges encountered from 8 September 2022 on the water supply system of Makhanda; effects of the disruptions to water services provisions; and measures taken to ensure equitable distribution .

Dam Levels

The completion of Phase 2 of the James Kleynhans Water Treatment Works upgrade went out on tender on Monday 01 August 2022. The tender closed on 24 August and we await the evaluation and appointment of the contractor. The new completion date will be indicated once the contractor is appointed. This project is implemented by Amatola Water.

GIVING BACK TO THE COMMUNITY

The local Pick n Pay and Makana LM signed a memorandum of understanding earlier this year. In the memorandum Pick n Pay committed to help repair smaller potholes all around town as a way to give back to their customers. Various businesses have since followed suit. This is an ongoing initiative.

Malwande Bebeza says he met Executive Mayor Cllr Yandiswa Vara when she was still a councilor. "She was always supportive of my art and always encouraged me to continue with it. I decided to make her this big portrait as a token of appreciation and I am very happy to say that she received it with great joy."

The Executive Mayor loved it, and decided to keep it in her office. "I am truly grateful to our Mayor for supporting me and supporting small businesses in general in and around Makhanda," he said.

SEASONED MAKANA LM RUNNER BAGS SILVER MEDAL

Seasoned local runner Thembinkosi 'Teabag' Mdyogolo who works at Makana Local Municipality represented us very well at this year's Comrades Marathon which was held in Durban.

The experienced runner says it took him four months to prepare for the race. "The distance we ran is about 90km, it is very long and it needs physical and mental preparation," he said.

His training for the race included a 60km run to Port Alfred from Makhanda, which took him 4hours 50mins and a 42km run from Makhanda to Riebeek East. Mdyogolo left Makhanda on 26 August for Durban to take part in the race on the 28 August. About 15000 participants took part in this year's race. "I was in seeding C, which had 3500 participants. I ran according to my plan and ended up running 7hours 30mins and I took the silver medal. I was there to represent my family and Makana Municipality. I thank God that I ran and came back home because two people who had taken part in the race passed away because of the challenging nature race."

Mdyogolo has since taken a two-week break to allow his muscles to heal and regain his strength. After that he will gradually start training again and work on his speed in preparation for the Sanlam Marathon on 17 October 2022 which will take place in Cape Town. Mdyogolo says he was happy with the performance of his fellow runner Mbas Ngcoza. "I will once again take Mbas along with me to that race. I was very please with his result in his first Comrades Marathon. This means that the work I do with him is not in vain."

Our great ambassadors

Makana Local Municipality would like to congratulate local runners Thembinkosi 'Teabag' Mdyogolo and Mbas Ngcoza who represented us very well in this year's Comrades Marathon. Mdyogolo who works at Makana LM brought home a silver medal with a time of 7hours 30mins. Ngcoza clocked 10hours 18mins in his first ever Comrades Marathon.
